Historically, LISC has invested over 9. 6 billion in communities across the country. In the Twin Cities, this has translated into over 370 million in investments, resulting in over 9, 000 affordable homes and 1. 3 million square feet of retail, community and edu-cational space. I am here today to talk about the relationship between commu-nity development activities and the Livable Communities Act. We applaud the coordination promoted by the Livable Communities Act, which has the potential to combine community-based planning with regional planning efforts. In the Twin Cities, we have seen this integration take place with a great deal of success. I would like to provide a specific example. The central corridor is a new 11-mile light rail corridor and will be the second line in the Twin Cities regional transit system, that when complete, connects the downtown of Minneapolis to...
