The Sound Approach, 2009. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. An Irish twitcher, Anthony McGeehan has written a series of entertaining and gloriously funny stories about his adventures in pursuit of birds. Many of the tales are narrated on the two CDs presented in this oblong volume. The narrations are accompanied with music and marvelous recordings of the sounds of the birds. Interspersed are humorous commentaries by Mairead McGeehan who describes the trials and tribulations of being married to a fanatic birder who can remember the date and time of a rare bird sighting, but forgets his wife's birthday. Fine color photographs accompany the essays. Birding From the Hip is the latest release from The Sound Approach. Written by Anthony McGeehan, this collection of stories spans seventeen years and details with humor a life spent in the field. Accompanied by two CDs containing stories narrated by the author and put to music by Grammy Award nominated producer, and founder of The Imagined Village, Simon Emmerson, this title is a must for anyone who wants to take a hilarious look at the joys of bird watching. There's more to bird watching than birds. Asked about his forthcoming book, Anthony replied, "Having worked myself up from The Observers Book of Birds and pawnshop opera glasses to Swarovski ELs (and abject poverty) it has been a cathartic experience to survey a life directed by birdwatching. Looking back and writing about what happened has given me a chance to don rose-colored binoculars and make sure that, with the passage of time and the onset of a failing memory, truth did not get in the way of a good story. The book is about the moments that punctuated days either in the company of birds or in the company of a class of humanity that both...
